

PROSPECTIVE CANDIDATES FOR THE MARK HANNA NOMINATION.

BUCKLE HAS THE POLE

WILL BE FOUGHT BY HIS PARTY'S ORGAN.

Because George Happens to Be a Mormon, the Lannan Influence Will Be Turned Against Him—Others Who Are in a Receptive Frame of Mind.

Although something like two months of very warm weather will intervene between now and the city Republican convention, the twitter of the candidates is heard in the land. George Buckle is very ardently at work for the embalmment of his mayoralty nomination. George would have but little opposition if it were not for the fact that he is, according to the Storm-starter, an Asiatie, being a member of the dominant church. For this reason, and this reason alone, he will have the opposition of the Tribune and all the clique controlled by the "colonel" who dictates the policy of that organ.

Wants Only Gentles.

In line with his often declared intention, Mr. Lannan can and will support no one but a gentle for the top position on the city ticket. Buckle is a Republican enough to suit him. He is administration man enough to suit Mark Hanna, but he is not a Mormon, and this is the "last camel" for the Tribune.

There is no question about Buckle having the "boys" with him. Alrick Robertson, his councilman twin, can hardly do less than support George, for George has dutifully backed Rob up every time Rob has walked in the council. Now Rob has, or thinks he has, a good strong pull with the Republican organization, especially in the Fifth precinct. He believes he can swing in any way he pleases, and Buckle certainly has a right to think Rob will swing things his way.

A factor that must not be overlooked, however, is the Tribune's influence over Rob. Especially since "Colonel" Lannan's organ has been so much of a standard, Hanna, Alger, Sampson and McKinley, Alrick has thought a good deal of that paper. Just what will happen when the Tribune comes to the rescue is a debatable question, for Robertson certainly can't serve the Tribune and his friend George at the same time.

President Neiden of the board of education and Salt Palace, who is perhaps better known as the Great American Endjorner, is another who is woeing the nomination. Mr. Neiden in many respects fits the Lannan requirements. He will hardly make a mistake for the honor, but he will at least go forward to meet it while it is long way off if he saw it coming skipping down the pike.

M. H. Walker is said to be in the receptive column. Mr. Walker is a busy man, but he might find time to make a canvass if the nomination should be thrust upon him.

Uncle John Dooly May Run.

There is also some talk about Uncle John Dooly as a mayoralty candidate. Of course, Rob would better Buckle immediately if he could. But for anybody knows better than the short-haired councilman from the Fifth which side his bread is buttered on. He has demonstrated that most conclusively in his fight for the issuance of a gold bond by the council.

O. J. Salisbury, according to a rumor, is also in the running. He is a ground two or three times every day, with the expectation of hearing the first rumblings of his mayoralty nomination. Mr. Salisbury, however, is one of the kind, properly enough that he has to be squeezed somewhat before he can get anything. And he is not a man who would say that he would lose his mayoralty to him who will lose his friendship.

Would Be Acceptable.

Mr. Salisbury would be an acceptable candidate to the Tribune clique, for more than one reason. In addition to being a McKinley Republican, he is a member of the church to which Mr. Lannan belongs. If the fight is to be waged on religious grounds, Mr. Salisbury would be a safe bet. He is a member of the church to which Mr. Lannan belongs. If the fight is to be waged on religious grounds, Mr. Salisbury would be a safe bet.

Chief Jim Deane has been tentatively mentioned for the place. It is pointed out that Jim would run well because of the fact that he is a native of the people while going to a fire. Jim's experience in this kind of running, some people think, would materially aid him in the handling of the crown on his not unwilling head.

There are others who would like the empty honor, and they will be heard from in the near future. The names of the convention. At present there is no doubt but that Buckle has the inside track, and if he can smother the Lannan opposition, his chances are better than those of any other candidate in either the active or receptive classes.

HAS MADE NO CHOICE.

Marshal Miller Withholds Postoffice Recommendations.

United States Marshal Miller says he has made no recommendations for either the Logan or Richfield postoffices, for both of which lively scrambles are going on. The reason for this is that the appointments will not be made yet awhile, for all of the faithful understand that whatever Glen says goes. No candidate can or will be appointed, it is understood, who is not recommended by letters with Mr. Miller's private brand of approval.

As to the Logan office, it is now being run by Postmaster Smith's housekeeper. A high authority says that if Mr. Smith will return to Logan he will be reinstated in the office. The office is in excellent condition. Every book and every account was perfectly straight. The office was kept vacant for an indefinite period.

The same is true of the Richfield postoffice, which is in the fourth class. The principal reason why no appointment will be made there for the present, aside from the lack of Marshal Miller's endorsement, is the absence from Washington of the authorities with the appointing power. They are away on vacations and have neither time nor inclination to attend to their duties.

The Kanab postoffice will be "ripe" within a month or two, and some rustling for that expected. The Salt Lake City office is also in a receptive frame of mind. It is the "nearly ripe" lot. Should Postmaster Bate fail to be cleared of the charge of embezzlement, which he is now being tried, it will make a vacancy at Riverport for some McKinleyite.

The Anglo-American Movement.

London, June 23.—The parliamentary commission of the promotion of the Anglo-American movement met today in one of the committee rooms of the house of commons. The Right Hon. James Bryce, liberal member of parliament of Aberdeen, presided. It was decided to issue at an early date a report of the first year's progress.

21 prizes, silver cup for prettiest baby at Lagoon, Friday, A. O. U. W. excursion.

Georgia Minstrels tonight 8:15, Lagoon.

PEARSON SWORD CEREMONIES

PRESENTATION MAY BE MADE ON THE FOURTH.

Sword Left New York Yesterday—Preparations for the Celebration Under Way—Invitations.

The handsome sword to be presented by the people of Utah to Lieutenant Harry Pearson, in recognition of his service at the battle of Manila, left New York for Salt Lake yesterday. This information was conveyed in a dispatch received by Adjutant General Burton from Governor Wells.

It has been suggested that the sword presentation be made a feature of the Fourth of July exercises at Liberty park, and this plan will be carried out. The sword should arrive here Saturday. It is considered that this would be an extremely appropriate occasion for the presentation and it would furnish a patriotic and interesting addition to the day's exercises.

The Fourth of July committee are at work at the celebration and preparations for the celebration are making rapid progress. Owing to the shortness of time, it may be impossible for the committee on parade to send invitations to all whom it is desired should participate, and this committee earnestly request all who are interested in the celebration to come, and others who are willing to take part in the parade, to report as soon as possible to General John Q. Cannon.

Wants Only Gentles.

In line with his often declared intention, Mr. Lannan can and will support no one but a gentle for the top position on the city ticket. Buckle is a Republican enough to suit him. He is administration man enough to suit Mark Hanna, but he is not a Mormon, and this is the "last camel" for the Tribune.

There is no question about Buckle having the "boys" with him. Alrick Robertson, his councilman twin, can hardly do less than support George, for George has dutifully backed Rob up every time Rob has walked in the council. Now Rob has, or thinks he has, a good strong pull with the Republican organization, especially in the Fifth precinct. He believes he can swing in any way he pleases, and Buckle certainly has a right to think Rob will swing things his way.

A factor that must not be overlooked, however, is the Tribune's influence over Rob. Especially since "Colonel" Lannan's organ has been so much of a standard, Hanna, Alger, Sampson and McKinley, Alrick has thought a good deal of that paper. Just what will happen when the Tribune comes to the rescue is a debatable question, for Robertson certainly can't serve the Tribune and his friend George at the same time.

President Neiden of the board of education and Salt Palace, who is perhaps better known as the Great American Endjorner, is another who is woeing the nomination. Mr. Neiden in many respects fits the Lannan requirements. He will hardly make a mistake for the honor, but he will at least go forward to meet it while it is long way off if he saw it coming skipping down the pike.

M. H. Walker is said to be in the receptive column. Mr. Walker is a busy man, but he might find time to make a canvass if the nomination should be thrust upon him.

Uncle John Dooly May Run.

There is also some talk about Uncle John Dooly as a mayoralty candidate. Of course, Rob would better Buckle immediately if he could. But for anybody knows better than the short-haired councilman from the Fifth which side his bread is buttered on. He has demonstrated that most conclusively in his fight for the issuance of a gold bond by the council.

O. J. Salisbury, according to a rumor, is also in the running. He is a ground two or three times every day, with the expectation of hearing the first rumblings of his mayoralty nomination. Mr. Salisbury, however, is one of the kind, properly enough that he has to be squeezed somewhat before he can get anything. And he is not a man who would say that he would lose his mayoralty to him who will lose his friendship.

Would Be Acceptable.

Mr. Salisbury would be an acceptable candidate to the Tribune clique, for more than one reason. In addition to being a McKinley Republican, he is a member of the church to which Mr. Lannan belongs. If the fight is to be waged on religious grounds, Mr. Salisbury would be a safe bet. He is a member of the church to which Mr. Lannan belongs. If the fight is to be waged on religious grounds, Mr. Salisbury would be a safe bet.

Chief Jim Deane has been tentatively mentioned for the place. It is pointed out that Jim would run well because of the fact that he is a native of the people while going to a fire. Jim's experience in this kind of running, some people think, would materially aid him in the handling of the crown on his not unwilling head.

There are others who would like the empty honor, and they will be heard from in the near future. The names of the convention. At present there is no doubt but that Buckle has the inside track, and if he can smother the Lannan opposition, his chances are better than those of any other candidate in either the active or receptive classes.

HAS MADE NO CHOICE.

Marshal Miller Withholds Postoffice Recommendations.

United States Marshal Miller says he has made no recommendations for either the Logan or Richfield postoffices, for both of which lively scrambles are going on. The reason for this is that the appointments will not be made yet awhile, for all of the faithful understand that whatever Glen says goes. No candidate can or will be appointed, it is understood, who is not recommended by letters with Mr. Miller's private brand of approval.

As to the Logan office, it is now being run by Postmaster Smith's housekeeper. A high authority says that if Mr. Smith will return to Logan he will be reinstated in the office. The office is in excellent condition. Every book and every account was perfectly straight. The office was kept vacant for an indefinite period.

The same is true of the Richfield postoffice, which is in the fourth class. The principal reason why no appointment will be made there for the present, aside from the lack of Marshal Miller's endorsement, is the absence from Washington of the authorities with the appointing power. They are away on vacations and have neither time nor inclination to attend to their duties.

The Kanab postoffice will be "ripe" within a month or two, and some rustling for that expected. The Salt Lake City office is also in a receptive frame of mind. It is the "nearly ripe" lot. Should Postmaster Bate fail to be cleared of the charge of embezzlement, which he is now being tried, it will make a vacancy at Riverport for some McKinleyite.

The Anglo-American Movement.

London, June 23.—The parliamentary commission of the promotion of the Anglo-American movement met today in one of the committee rooms of the house of commons. The Right Hon. James Bryce, liberal member of parliament of Aberdeen, presided. It was decided to issue at an early date a report of the first year's progress.

21 prizes, silver cup for prettiest baby at Lagoon, Friday, A. O. U. W. excursion.

Georgia Minstrels tonight 8:15, Lagoon.

THE SALT LAKE HERALD: THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1899

PRESENTATION MAY BE MADE ON THE FOURTH.

Sword Left New York Yesterday—Preparations for the Celebration Under Way—Invitations.

The handsome sword to be presented by the people of Utah to Lieutenant Harry Pearson, in recognition of his service at the battle of Manila, left New York for Salt Lake yesterday. This information was conveyed in a dispatch received by Adjutant General Burton from Governor Wells.

It has been suggested that the sword presentation be made a feature of the Fourth of July exercises at Liberty park, and this plan will be carried out. The sword should arrive here Saturday. It is considered that this would be an extremely appropriate occasion for the presentation and it would furnish a patriotic and interesting addition to the day's exercises.

The Fourth of July committee are at work at the celebration and preparations for the celebration are making rapid progress. Owing to the shortness of time, it may be impossible for the committee on parade to send invitations to all whom it is desired should participate, and this committee earnestly request all who are interested in the celebration to come, and others who are willing to take part in the parade, to report as soon as possible to General John Q. Cannon.

Wants Only Gentles.

In line with his often declared intention, Mr. Lannan can and will support no one but a gentle for the top position on the city ticket. Buckle is a Republican enough to suit him. He is administration man enough to suit Mark Hanna, but he is not a Mormon, and this is the "last camel" for the Tribune.

There is no question about Buckle having the "boys" with him. Alrick Robertson, his councilman twin, can hardly do less than support George, for George has dutifully backed Rob up every time Rob has walked in the council. Now Rob has, or thinks he has, a good strong pull with the Republican organization, especially in the Fifth precinct. He believes he can swing in any way he pleases, and Buckle certainly has a right to think Rob will swing things his way.

A factor that must not be overlooked, however, is the Tribune's influence over Rob. Especially since "Colonel" Lannan's organ has been so much of a standard, Hanna, Alger, Sampson and McKinley, Alrick has thought a good deal of that paper. Just what will happen when the Tribune comes to the rescue is a debatable question, for Robertson certainly can't serve the Tribune and his friend George at the same time.

President Neiden of the board of education and Salt Palace, who is perhaps better known as the Great American Endjorner, is another who is woeing the nomination. Mr. Neiden in many respects fits the Lannan requirements. He will hardly make a mistake for the honor, but he will at least go forward to meet it while it is long way off if he saw it coming skipping down the pike.

M. H. Walker is said to be in the receptive column. Mr. Walker is a busy man, but he might find time to make a canvass if the nomination should be thrust upon him.

Uncle John Dooly May Run.

There is also some talk about Uncle John Dooly as a mayoralty candidate. Of course, Rob would better Buckle immediately if he could. But for anybody knows better than the short-haired councilman from the Fifth which side his bread is buttered on. He has demonstrated that most conclusively in his fight for the issuance of a gold bond by the council.

O. J. Salisbury, according to a rumor, is also in the running. He is a ground two or three times every day, with the expectation of hearing the first rumblings of his mayoralty nomination. Mr. Salisbury, however, is one of the kind, properly enough that he has to be squeezed somewhat before he can get anything. And he is not a man who would say that he would lose his mayoralty to him who will lose his friendship.

Would Be Acceptable.

Mr. Salisbury would be an acceptable candidate to the Tribune clique, for more than one reason. In addition to being a McKinley Republican, he is a member of the church to which Mr. Lannan belongs. If the fight is to be waged on religious grounds, Mr. Salisbury would be a safe bet. He is a member of the church to which Mr. Lannan belongs. If the fight is to be waged on religious grounds, Mr. Salisbury would be a safe bet.

Chief Jim Deane has been tentatively mentioned for the place. It is pointed out that Jim would run well because of the fact that he is a native of the people while going to a fire. Jim's experience in this kind of running, some people think, would materially aid him in the handling of the crown on his not unwilling head.

There are others who would like the empty honor, and they will be heard from in the near future. The names of the convention. At present there is no doubt but that Buckle has the inside track, and if he can smother the Lannan opposition, his chances are better than those of any other candidate in either the active or receptive classes.

HAS MADE NO CHOICE.

Marshal Miller Withholds Postoffice Recommendations.

United States Marshal Miller says he has made no recommendations for either the Logan or Richfield postoffices, for both of which lively scrambles are going on. The reason for this is that the appointments will not be made yet awhile, for all of the faithful understand that whatever Glen says goes. No candidate can or will be appointed, it is understood, who is not recommended by letters with Mr. Miller's private brand of approval.

As to the Logan office, it is now being run by Postmaster Smith's housekeeper. A high authority says that if Mr. Smith will return to Logan he will be reinstated in the office. The office is in excellent condition. Every book and every account was perfectly straight. The office was kept vacant for an indefinite period.

The same is true of the Richfield postoffice, which is in the fourth class. The principal reason why no appointment will be made there for the present, aside from the lack of Marshal Miller's endorsement, is the absence from Washington of the authorities with the appointing power. They are away on vacations and have neither time nor inclination to attend to their duties.

The Kanab postoffice will be "ripe" within a month or two, and some rustling for that expected. The Salt Lake City office is also in a receptive frame of mind. It is the "nearly ripe" lot. Should Postmaster Bate fail to be cleared of the charge of embezzlement, which he is now being tried, it will make a vacancy at Riverport for some McKinleyite.

The Anglo-American Movement.

London, June 23.—The parliamentary commission of the promotion of the Anglo-American movement met today in one of the committee rooms of the house of commons. The Right Hon. James Bryce, liberal member of parliament of Aberdeen, presided. It was decided to issue at an early date a report of the first year's progress.

21 prizes, silver cup for prettiest baby at Lagoon, Friday, A. O. U. W. excursion.

Georgia Minstrels tonight 8:15, Lagoon.

THE SALT LAKE HERALD: THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1899

PRESENTATION MAY BE MADE ON THE FOURTH.

Sword Left New York Yesterday—Preparations for the Celebration Under Way—Invitations.

The handsome sword to be presented by the people of Utah to Lieutenant Harry Pearson, in recognition of his service at the battle of Manila, left New York for Salt Lake yesterday. This information was conveyed in a dispatch received by Adjutant General Burton from Governor Wells.

It has been suggested that the sword presentation be made a feature of the Fourth of July exercises at Liberty park, and this plan will be carried out. The sword should arrive here Saturday. It is considered that this would be an extremely appropriate occasion for the presentation and it would furnish a patriotic and interesting addition to the day's exercises.

The Fourth of July committee are at work at the celebration and preparations for the celebration are making rapid progress. Owing to the shortness of time, it may be impossible for the committee on parade to send invitations to all whom it is desired should participate, and this committee earnestly request all who are interested in the celebration to come, and others who are willing to take part in the parade, to report as soon as possible to General John Q. Cannon.

Wants Only Gentles.

In line with his often declared intention, Mr. Lannan can and will support no one but a gentle for the top position on the city ticket. Buckle is a Republican enough to suit him. He is administration man enough to suit Mark Hanna, but he is not a Mormon, and this is the "last camel" for the Tribune.

There is no question about Buckle having the "boys" with him. Alrick Robertson, his councilman twin, can hardly do less than support George, for George has dutifully backed Rob up every time Rob has walked in the council. Now Rob has, or thinks he has, a good strong pull with the Republican organization, especially in the Fifth precinct. He believes he can swing in any way he pleases, and Buckle certainly has a right to think Rob will swing things his way.

A factor that must not be overlooked, however, is the Tribune's influence over Rob. Especially since "Colonel" Lannan's organ has been so much of a standard, Hanna, Alger, Sampson and McKinley, Alrick has thought a good deal of that paper. Just what will happen when the Tribune comes to the rescue is a debatable question, for Robertson certainly can't serve the Tribune and his friend George at the same time.

President Neiden of the board of education and Salt Palace, who is perhaps better known as the Great American Endjorner, is another who is woeing the nomination. Mr. Neiden in many respects fits the Lannan requirements. He will hardly make a mistake for the honor, but he will at least go forward to meet it while it is long way off if he saw it coming skipping down the pike.

M. H. Walker is said to be in the receptive column. Mr. Walker is a busy man, but he might find time to make a canvass if the nomination should be thrust upon him.

Uncle John Dooly May Run.

There is also some talk about Uncle John Dooly as a mayoralty candidate. Of course, Rob would better Buckle immediately if he could. But for anybody knows better than the short-haired councilman from the Fifth which side his bread is buttered on. He has demonstrated that most conclusively in his fight for the issuance of a gold bond by the council.

O. J. Salisbury, according to a rumor, is also in the running. He is a ground two or three times every day, with the expectation of hearing the first rumblings of his mayoralty nomination. Mr. Salisbury, however, is one of the kind, properly enough that he has to be squeezed somewhat before he can get anything. And he is not a man who would say that he would lose his mayoralty to him who will lose his friendship.

Would Be Acceptable.

Mr. Salisbury would be an acceptable candidate to the Tribune clique, for more than one reason. In addition to being a McKinley Republican, he is a member of the church to which Mr. Lannan belongs. If the fight is to be waged on religious grounds, Mr. Salisbury would be a safe bet. He is a member of the church to which Mr. Lannan belongs. If the fight is to be waged on religious grounds, Mr. Salisbury would be a safe bet.

Chief Jim Deane has been tentatively mentioned for the place. It is pointed out that Jim would run well because of the fact that he is a native of the people while going to a fire. Jim's experience in this kind of running, some people think, would materially aid him in the handling of the crown on his not unwilling head.

There are others who would like the empty honor, and they will be heard from in the near future. The names of the convention. At present there is no doubt but that Buckle has the inside track, and if he can smother the Lannan opposition, his chances are better than those of any other candidate in either the active or receptive classes.

HAS MADE NO CHOICE.

Marshal Miller Withholds Postoffice Recommendations.

United States Marshal Miller says he has made no recommendations for either the Logan or Richfield postoffices, for both of which lively scrambles are going on. The reason for this is that the appointments will not be made yet awhile, for all of the faithful understand that whatever Glen says goes. No candidate can or will be appointed, it is understood, who is not recommended by letters with Mr. Miller's private brand of approval.

As to the Logan office, it is now being run by Postmaster Smith's housekeeper. A high authority says that if Mr. Smith will return to Logan he will be reinstated in the office. The office is in excellent condition. Every book and every account was perfectly straight. The office was kept vacant for an indefinite period.

The same is true of the Richfield postoffice, which is in the fourth class. The principal reason why no appointment will be made there for the present, aside from the lack of Marshal Miller's endorsement, is the absence from Washington of the authorities with the appointing power. They are away on vacations and have neither time nor inclination to attend to their duties.

The Kanab postoffice will be "ripe" within a month or two, and some rustling for that expected. The Salt Lake City office is also in a receptive frame of mind. It is the "nearly ripe" lot. Should Postmaster Bate fail to be cleared of the charge of embezzlement, which he is now being tried, it will make a vacancy at Riverport for some McKinleyite.

The Anglo-American Movement.

London, June 23.—The parliamentary commission of the promotion of the Anglo-American movement met today in one of the committee rooms of the house of commons. The Right Hon. James Bryce, liberal member of parliament of Aberdeen, presided. It was decided to issue at an early date a report of the first year's progress.

21 prizes, silver cup for prettiest baby at Lagoon, Friday, A. O. U. W. excursion.

Georgia Minstrels tonight 8:15, Lagoon.

THE SALT LAKE HERALD: THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1899

PRESENTATION MAY BE MADE ON THE FOURTH.

Sword Left New York Yesterday—Preparations for the Celebration Under Way—Invitations.

The handsome sword to be presented by the people of Utah to Lieutenant Harry Pearson, in recognition of his service at the battle of Manila, left New York for Salt Lake yesterday. This information was conveyed in a dispatch received by Adjutant General Burton from Governor Wells.

It has been suggested that the sword presentation be made a feature of the Fourth of July exercises at Liberty park, and this plan will be carried out. The sword should arrive here Saturday. It is considered that this would be an extremely appropriate occasion for the presentation and it would furnish a patriotic and interesting addition to the day's exercises.

The Fourth of July committee are at work at the celebration and preparations for the celebration are making rapid progress. Owing to the shortness of time, it may be impossible for the committee on parade to send invitations to all whom it is desired should participate, and this committee earnestly request all who are interested in the celebration to come, and others who are willing to take part in the parade, to report as soon as possible to General John Q. Cannon.

Wants Only Gentles.

In line with his often declared intention, Mr. Lannan can and will support no one but a gentle for the top position on the city ticket. Buckle is a Republican enough to suit him. He is administration man enough to suit Mark Hanna, but he is not a Mormon, and this is the "last camel" for the Tribune.

There is no question about Buckle having the "boys" with him. Alrick Robertson, his councilman twin, can hardly do less than support George, for George has dutifully backed Rob up every time Rob has walked in the council. Now Rob has, or thinks he has, a good strong pull with the Republican organization, especially in the Fifth precinct. He believes he can swing in any way he pleases, and Buckle certainly has a right to think Rob will swing things his way.

A factor that must not be overlooked, however, is the Tribune's influence over Rob. Especially since "Colonel" Lannan's organ has been so much of a standard, Hanna, Alger, Sampson and McKinley, Alrick has thought a good deal of that paper. Just what will happen when the Tribune comes to the rescue is a debatable question, for Robertson certainly can't serve the Tribune and his friend George at the same time.

President Neiden of the board of education and Salt Palace, who is perhaps better known as the Great American Endjorner, is another who is woeing the nomination. Mr. Neiden in many respects fits the Lannan requirements. He will hardly make a mistake for the honor, but he will at least go forward to meet it while it is long way off if he saw it coming skipping down the pike.

M. H. Walker is said to be in the receptive column. Mr. Walker is a busy man, but he might find time to make a canvass if the nomination should be thrust upon him.

Uncle John Dooly May Run.

There is also some talk about Uncle John Dooly as a mayoralty candidate. Of course, Rob would better Buckle immediately if he could. But for anybody knows better than the short-haired councilman from the Fifth which side his bread is buttered on. He has demonstrated that most conclusively in his fight for the issuance of a gold bond by the council.

O. J. Salisbury, according to a rumor, is also in the running. He is a ground two or three times every day, with the expectation of hearing the first rumblings of his mayoralty nomination. Mr. Salisbury, however, is one of the kind, properly enough that he has to be squeezed somewhat before he can get anything. And he is not a man who would say that he would lose his mayoralty to him who will lose his friendship.

Would Be Acceptable.

Mr. Salisbury would be an acceptable candidate to the Tribune clique, for more than one reason. In addition to being a McKinley Republican, he is a member of the church to which Mr. Lannan belongs. If the fight is to be waged on religious grounds, Mr. Salisbury would be a safe bet. He is a member of the church to which Mr. Lannan belongs. If the fight is to be waged on religious grounds, Mr. Salisbury would be a safe bet.

Chief Jim Deane has been tentatively mentioned for the place. It is pointed out that Jim would run well because of the fact that he is a native of the people while going to a fire. Jim's experience in this kind of running, some people think, would materially aid him in the handling of the crown on his not unwilling head.

There are others who would like the empty honor, and they will be heard from in the near future. The names of the convention. At present there is no doubt but that Buckle has the inside track, and if he can smother the Lannan opposition, his chances are better than those of any other candidate in either the active or receptive classes.

HAS MADE NO CHOICE.

Marshal Miller Withholds Postoffice Recommendations.

United States Marshal Miller says he has made no recommendations for either the Logan or Richfield postoffices, for both of which lively scrambles are going on. The reason for this is that the appointments will not be made yet awhile, for all of the faithful understand that whatever Glen says goes. No candidate can or will be appointed, it is understood, who is not recommended by letters with Mr. Miller's private brand of approval.

As to the Logan office, it is now being run by Postmaster Smith's housekeeper. A high authority says that if Mr. Smith will return to Logan he will be reinstated in the office. The office is in excellent condition. Every book and every account was perfectly straight. The office was kept vacant for an indefinite period.

The same is true of the Richfield postoffice, which is in the fourth class. The principal reason why no appointment will be made there for the present, aside from the lack of Marshal Miller's endorsement, is the absence from Washington of the authorities with the appointing power. They are away on vacations and have neither time nor inclination to attend to their duties.